YOUTH FATALLY STABS HIS FELLOW WORKMAN

W. L. Felton Dead and James Gurkin in Jail Charged With Murder

USED SCREW-DRIVER AS WEAPON

Fight Followed Quarrel Over Electrical Work and Gerkins Drove 12-inch Piece of Steel Into Opponent's Brain—Verdict of the Coroner's Jury Places the Blame.

In spite of all that surgical science could do to save his life, Walter L. Felton, the young electrician who was stabbed in the head with a screw driver by John Gurkin, his 17-year-old helper, about 10:15 o'clock yesterday morning, died from his injuries at the Newport News General Hospital at 6:45 o'clock last night. The stabbing occurred in the plant of the Citizen's Railway Light and Power Company and was the result of a quarrel between the electrician and his helper over some work the latter was doing in the building.

The body was moved from the hospital to Rouse's undertaking establishment on Twenty-fifth street about 8:30 o'clock last night and an inquest was held there by Dr. B. R. Gary, the coroner. After hearing the testimony of two eye-witnesses to the stabbing and the statements of Dr. Gary concerning the wound, the coroner's jury returned the following verdict:

Verdict of the Jury. "We, the coroner's jury, believe that Walter L. Felton died on the 27th day of January, 1906, from the effects of injuries received on the 27th day of January, 1906, the said injuries being inflicted by a screw driver in the hands of John A. Gurkin."

(Signed) "W. B. BALLARD, "C. O. PUGH, "W. J. NOONAN, "J. H. BARTLETTE, "J. L. HARRIS, "A. H. HENLEY, "B. ROSCOE GARY, Coroner." Principal Witness, The principal witness before the coroner's jury at the inquest last night was Mr. E. C. Gay, who is employed at the Citizen's Railway, Light and Power Company's plant, where the stabbing occurred.

Mr. Gay stated upon the stand that he had never seen Felton until yesterday, when he went to the plant to run in a service wire for one of the motors. He known Gurkin about a year and a half. The witness stated further that after they had been working there some time a dispute arose between Felton and Gurkin, but, thinking it to be only such a squabble as workmen often have among themselves, he paid no attention to it, until a blow had been passed between the men and the step ladder, under which they were standing, fell against his (Gay's) shoulder.

"What lick did you see struck?" asked Coroner Gary.

Saw Gurkin Strike.

"I saw Mr. Gurkin strike Mr. Felton on the jaw with his screw driver. After the first blow Gurkin drew back to strike a second time and I tried to catch his arm, but was unsuccessful and the lad struck Felton with the screw driver a second time," replied the witness.

"After Gurkin had struck the second blow, driving the screw driver into Felton's head," continued Mr. Gay, "the wounded man fell to the floor and the boy did not attempt to strike again. I then ran to the telephone and, therefore, could not tell what Gurkin did while I was away, but when I left the phone the lad had disappeared."

When asked by Dr. Gary if he saw Felton strike Gurkin, Mr. Gay replied: "I did not."

Negro Saw It, Too.

W. W. Pierman, a negro utility man employed in the plant, was the only other witness examined by the coroner. The negro stated that he knew very little of the affair, as he did not notice the men until Gurkin's head struck the step ladder. Pierman then wheeled around to see what was going on and it was then that he saw the boy strike Felton twice with the screw driver.

Before the investigation of the case by the jury, Dr. Gary examined Felton and found that the screw driver entered the left side of the head just above the temple, penetrating the skull and running almost entirely through the brain. The physician stated that under those conditions there never was any possibility of saving Felton's life by an operation.

Here Only Short Time.

Felton had been in the employ of the electric company for only a few months and very little is known of him here. He has a sister, Miss Bertha C. Felton, in West Burlington, Mass., and she will be notified of the death today.

The local union, No. 65, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, of which the deceased was a member, has taken charge of the remains, and will, if necessary, bury the dead man.

Young Gurkin Arrested.

Soon after he stabbed Felton young Gurkin left the power plant, going to his home in East End, where he was arrested about 11 o'clock by Detective Sergeant B. J. O'Hara. When arrested the young man was in his room, changing his clothes.

The lad was locked up then on the charge of felonious assault, but after Felton's death the charge of murder was placed against him and he is now being held in the city jail for trial on that charge.

Gurkin has been in this city about twelve months, coming here from his home near Jamesville, N. C. The lad's father has been dead for some time, but his mother, Mrs. W. W. Gurkin now resides at Jamesville, N. C. The boy has three brothers and two sisters.

Attorney R. M. Lett has been retained to defend young Gurkin when his case comes to trial. It is expected that a police court trial will be waived.

It is understood that Gurkin claims that Felton attacked him and that he used the screw driver in self defense.

TWO CRAP JOINTS RAIDED.

Chief Walker and Squad Busy in Bloodfield Last Night.

Chief of Police Walker and Officers Vail and Whitfield raided two alleged crap joints on Ivy avenue last night, arresting four negroes on one place and eleven in another.

All of the prisoners were bailed for their appearance at the "Beulah Poole" tomorrow morning.

Don't Want "Jim Crow Cars."

A delegation of negroes will go to Richmond from this city today to appear before the legislative committee on highways and internal improvements for the purpose of protesting against the passage of Hon. W. E. Barrett's "Jim Crow" street car bill. The delegation will be composed of Rev. H. H. Harris, Rev. C. C. Taylor, J. T. Newsome and W. H. C. Brown. The committee meets tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

BARGES IN COLLISION

Kingston and Buenaventura Crashed Together During Storm

TOWED INTO THIS PORT YESTERDAY

Immense Hole Was Torn in Buenaventura's Hull Above the Waterline—Cost of Repairs Will Amount to Several Thousand Dollars.

With the damaged barge Kingston, from New York, and the barge Coal King, from Providence, in tow, the tug Edward Luckenbach arrived at this port yesterday morning after a strenuous voyage down the Atlantic coast.

Soon after putting to sea from New York, where she picked up the Kingston, the tug and its tow ran into bad weather, which continued throughout the entire trip to Hampton Roads. The barges were continually tossed about the crest of mountainous waves and several times collisions between them were only narrowly averted.

Everything went well until the Luckenbach, as nearing the end of her journey, but when she was off Cape Charles light ship at 4:30 o'clock Friday morning the weather became rougher and a serious accident befell two of the vessels behind her.

The Kingston, which was the last of the tow, and the Buenaventura the first barge behind the tug, smashed together off Cape Charles Light. The Kingston had an immense hole stove in her port quarter and side, extending from just abaft of her bow almost to amidships. Fortunately the hole was above the waterline and there was no danger of the vessel sinking. The Buenaventura was slightly damaged.

After the collision the tug and her tow anchored until Friday, when the Luckenbach picked up the Kingston and proceeded to this port. The Buenaventura was left at anchor off Cape Charles light ship, where she awaited a tow to Norfolk, for which port she was bound.

The details of how the collision occurred could not be learned here yesterday.

terday. It is probable that the Kingston will be repaired at the local shipyard. The work on her will cost several thousand dollars and will require at least three weeks time for completion.

TROOPS RESTORING ORDER IN THE BALTIC PROVINCES

Insurgent Leaders are Hunted Down Like Beasts—Hundreds of Castles Destroyed

(By Associated Press)

WENDEN, LIVONIA, Thursday, Jan. 25.—The pacification of the Baltic provinces is reaching the final stage so far as the agrarian movement is concerned.

Nearly 250 revolutionists have been shot, many thousands are under arrest and 5,000 rifles have been captured by the troops.

The majority of those already executed were Lettish teachers or students.

The revolutionists have stopped burning buildings, but they occasionally fire on the troops. Altogether the revolutionists in this district burned 200 castles valued at $4,000,000, without including the articles of value which they contained.

The troops on one occasion surrounded a church in which funeral services were proceeding, arrested the revolutionary orators and shot one of them.

Economy Being Practiced.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 27.—In continuation of the policy of retrenchment by the weeding out of inactive members of the military organizations, the retrenchment on half pay of twenty-two generals and three admirals who hold sinecures on the Alexander committee for the care of the wounded, will shortly be gazetted. The committee has fifty-one members, who do little except draw their salaries, amounting in all to $250,000.

Sergeant Dunn Here.

Sergeant Dunn, of the New York city police force, arrived in the city yesterday to take charge of Clarence Engelkraut, the youngster arrested here for the authorities of the metropolis on the charge of stealing a bull dog and $40. The sergeant will leave with his prisoner today.
